Dear Sir,

My name is Angela Troya Reyes. I live in Lexington, Massachusetts, 02420. I am a mother of two, a grandmother of two, and a teacher.

I have been a teacher for over twenty years, and throughout all those years, I have taught so many children at different grade levels, including Noah Bacon.

Since I have known Noah, he has been a person with a good heart, always thinking about people's goodness. He never got into trouble in school or later in life. Like any other young adult, believing that what happened during the election was a fraud and following the instructions of one person not telling the truth, he followed what was right in his heart without any ill intention. My reasoning for him being there was to exercise his right to protest something he believed was right without thinking his action was against the law.

I believe he knows what is real and false about what happened during the election and everything after that. I know he regrets his actions on January 6th and apologizes for his ill participation.

I have known Noah since elementary school, and he has always been respectful and caring with family and friends. I know he is trying to improve his life, finding a steady job, and returning to college to get a degree in Computer Science. Please find ways to reduce his sentence and find a way he can be of service to others instead of being incarcerated.

Thank you so much for reading this message.

Respectfully,

Angela Troya Reyes
