connection with --

- (a) an offense punishable by death, life imprisonment or imprisonment for a term of 15 years or more, the penalties for failure to appear are a $250,000 fine, or imprisonment for not more than 10 years, or both;
- (b) an offense punishable by imprisonment for a term of five or more years, but less than -15 years, the penalties for failure to appear are a fine of not more than $250,000 or imprisonment for not more than five years, or both;

At the present time, the charge in this case involves penalties which equal or exceed the penalty set forth in subparagraph (b), and therefore, the penalties for failure to appear are those conditions in that subparagraph.

Any term of imprisonment for failure to appear is required by law to be consecutive to the sentence of imprisonment for any other offense.

Furthermore, federal law provides that a person convicted of an offense that is committed while Defendant is released under these conditions of release may be sentenced, in addition to the sentence prescribed for the offense, to a term of imprisonment of not more than 10 years if the offense is a felony; or a term of not more than one year, if the offense is a misdemeanor. Any term of imprisonment imposed pursuant to this provision of law is to be consecutive to any other term of imprisonment.

I acknowledge that I have read the above or that the above has been read to me and that I fully understand the conditions of my admission to bail and the possible penalties for the violation of any of those conditions.

I further acknowledge that I have been given a copy of this instrument, as well as a copy of the bail bond to which it is attached.
