

I have known Duncan Massie for a little more than 7 years. I met him through church and when I started dating his son Ian Massie.

Duncan is one of the most caring and helpful men I know. He is an amazing father in law, he has been there for my husband and I through almost all of our hardships and I care for him very much.

I understand he has been convicted for trespassing into the Capitol. Duncan has never been in any kind of trouble before.

Duncan is the kind of person you can go to when you need help.

Sincerely,

Cassidy Massie
