

To whom it may concern,

I am writing on behalf of Kenneth Duncan Massie. I understand that he is being charged with parading/picketing inside of a government building.

I, along with my family, have been intimately acquainted with Duncan, as he is known to us, and his family for the last fifteen years. In that time, it has been quite evident that he is a man of utmost integrity, dedicating himself to faith, provision, and the education and support of his family. I have witnessed him express love for others through both his actions and his words.

Duncan is extremely hard working. He has supported his family working long hours so that his wife had the freedom to stay at home and home school their children. Over the last few years he has worked towards competing his college degree so that he can continue to provide and to supply a visible example to his growing children.

Kenneth Duncan Massie is a Christian, a husband, a father, a grandfather, a son, a brother, and a friend. Each of these roles is one that many of us, like myself, can relate to. I can confidently say that one would be hard pressed to find a better example, a better embodiment, of one reaching to be the best in each of these responsibilities. Compassion, temperance, and love are seen in the practical workings of his life.

Sincerely,

David Alan Forsyth
