To Honourable Judge Randolph Moss,

Re: Luke Faulkner

I have known Luke Faulkner for 15 years as friend. I can vouch for him and say that he has been a person of excellent morals and integrity over the time we have known each other.

I can further state that Luke Faulkner has been immensely dedicated to his family and work, and a loving person towards friends too.

He has been known to be helpful and charitable, and is a much-loved person by all.

I, Norman Bowling am asking the courts to show leniency for Luke Faulkner in his sentencing.

Yours faithfully,

Dear Honorable Judge Randolph Moss,

My name is Jaimie Bowling and proud to offer my character letter for Luke Faulkner to whom I have personally known for 35 years as my friend.

During my relationship with Luke Faulkner, I have experienced an individual who has been there for me and my family without hesitation no matter the time of day or any how far away we was. He works hard for his family and friends, and carries himself in a polite, respectable manner. In addition, Luke Faulkner is a family-man who has always presented himself with level head and grace. Luke would help anyone in any way he possibly could, he would give a stranger his last dollar or the shirt off his back if they needed it. I ask that the court use leniency for my dear friend Luke as he is a huge asset to our lives as well as society.

Best,

I, Alea Shope, write this letter of reference about Luke Faulkner with whom I had the pleasure to know for more than 20 years time, in order to clarify and defend his good judgment.

Luke has always been a helping hand to my family. He employed my brother when he was in need of a job. When I was 16 my very first car was a gift from Luke. Most recently he has helped with the renovation of the kitchen in my home. Luke has helped me through grief from past relationship issues and is someone I have always appreciated receiving advice from. He has helped me with moving from home to home and has shown kindness and love to my 2 year old daughter since she was born.

Luke Faulkner demonstrates numerous qualities as a valuable person in our society. He is part of a beautiful family with good moral qualities. He is dependable, responsible, honest, and a man who has given himself fully to God. In addition to this, I have observed him being polite, a hard-worker and also always willing to help when needed.

I strongly recommend Luke Faulkner as a more than suitable person with both mental and moral qualities. I hope you consider this reference letter when determining the outcome of this case.

Best regards,

Presiding Honorable Judge Randolph Moss:

My name is Amy Hammond, I have known Luke Faulkner for 25 years.

Luke and his family have always been very supportive to me while my daughter went through cancer then passing at 8 years old, they are still supportive after 9 years of her passing.

Luke is a very kind, compassionate, and caring man, dedicated to his family and God. He is very involved in his church and his family, he is also one of the hardest working men I have ever met, making sure his family is financially taken care of.

Thank you,
Amy Hammond

This document is being written to share with you my back ground with Mr. Luke Faulkner.

Sixteen years ago my son and I were in the process of general contracting a new home for my daughter and her first born son who was diagnosed with Duchenne Muscular dystrophy, which is a terminal disease. We were told by my grandson's doctor that his life expectancy was fifteen to possibly twenty years of age. We had reached the point of the construction that we were ready to pour the concrete for the basement floor and the walkways and driveways around the house. Luke Faulkner happened by our building site and stopped to introduce himself and asked if we had a bid yet for that work. I told him we did and he asked if I would be interested in him giving us estimate for doing this work. While we were talking he inquired about my reasons for building this house and I explained to him that I wasn't a builder by trade but rather a grandfather who wanted his grandson to have a wheelchair accessible home. When Luke heard this information he called the local cement company that he orders all his cement from and told them this story and they cut the cost of my building expense by 33%. Even after his part of the building process was complete he would routinely stop by the house to see how we were doing and would often make helpful recommendations. For years after that Luke would call to see how I was doing and how my grandson was also doing. My daughter invited Luke to the house when it was complete to thank him for his help in saving significant money for us and to have him meet my grandson Brody. In recent years on two different occasions I have used Luke for concrete related work and he is still as genuine and caring as always. No other contractor ever called or cared to follow up on Brody's health. This is a man of good character and someone I have the highest regards for.
